

spring's retreat, winter's treat

easter turns everything upside down: the earth we know, the grass that grows.
for this time even the pastures of green make space for heaven's white grace.

© bastian fährnich 2007